

Create a new page

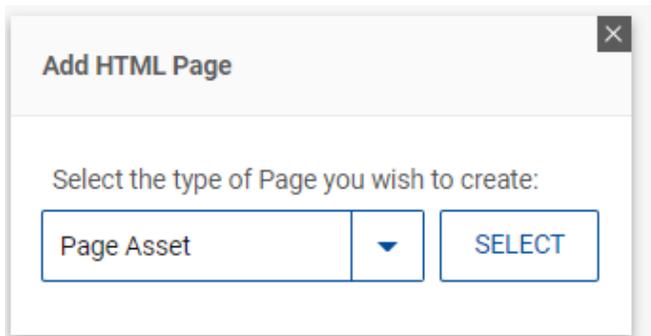

Pages in dotCMS display text, images, links, and embedded video to visitors to the UA website. We use templates and themes to maintain a consistent design across our site and many of the elements on the pages will show automatically based on these design choices.

To get started with a new page, log into dotCMS and use the Website | Browser to navigate to the folder where you want the page to “live”.

On the Add HTML Page screen, make sure Page Asset is selected, then click Select

On the Page Asset screen, you'll have several required fields to fill in to create your new page:

Title:

Host or Folder:

 ▼

Url:

Cache TTL:

Template:

The Title identifies your page and will show in the browser's title bar when visiting the page.

The Host or Folder was pre-selected when you right-clicked on the folder

Once the title is completed, clicking in the URL field will automatically fill in the address for the page.

Notes:

1. Any spaces or special characters in the Title will be turned into "-" in the URL.
2. The Title should be a simple, but clear description of the content on the page or the function.
3. The primary/first page in the folder should have a URL of index.dot

The Template defines the layout of the page. In the template box, type in UA2 to see a list of our current series of templates.
